LOSS OF STOCK.

Editors Southern Cultivator:—In your May No. of the Cultivator, there is a communication on the loss of stock, which all must agree is very great in the South. I am one of the few who believe that something can be done by persistent concert of action. We in extreme Eastern North Carolina live in a low, level, extremely rich country, with reeds covering nearly one-half of the whole area, which is an inexhaustible winter range for cattle, and on the marshes and savannahs there is no better summer range. Hogs in many places would make good pork all the year round, without feed. Our plan in raising cattle has been merely to build a cow pen, say one-fourth acre, more or less, where a smoke is built each night, after March. This keeps them comparatively gentle. They are marked and turned out in August. It was a great stock country, with a great deal of stock in it before the war. But now don't talk about it; immediately after the war, each negro was almost crazy for a long range rifle, and now they generally have one or a musket, and the result has been bang! bang! all day and all night; and especially on Sundays—so much so that our Legislature has made a most excellent law, making it penal to hunt on Sundays; for while honest blacks and whites were at Church, or keeping the day holy, these marauders were abroad. But you will say, where it is bang! bang! all day and all night, it would be an easy matter to catch them. Try it and you will then know better—he shot at a squirrel, a hawk, a coon, or just shot his gun out to see if she'd shoot, &c., &c.—They are bound together so strongly that the honest ones are afraid to be witnesses against them, and I am convinced that the honest people are generally located before a larceny is committed, and the most of the evidence is buried offal, where it happens to be done carelessly. Talk to the neighbors about it—yes, they are going to kill them all, and you can't do anything with them, for here are carpet-baggers taking their part. But have you tried concert of action. No—it is no use, you can't get folks to do anything, and I am going to quit trying to raise stock—but something ought to be done, &c. What is everybody's business is nobody's business. Well, at the election last fall, where black and white were present, I wrote:

"All persons are hereby forewarned from hunting with dog or gun, on any of our lands, or trespassing in any manner thereon, under penalty of the law," which we all signed, and stuck up at different places, and immediately formed a club to take in members, by a two-thirds majority, without regard to color. Not one negro could be induced to sign it. Some wished to do so but were afraid. A reward of five dollars or more was offered to any person who should bring sufficient evidence for the conviction of any thief. The shooting was stopped immediately, and since then, (about seven months,) we have lost little or no stock. If a white man trespass, take him up immediately. All members of the club can freely hunt, &c.

Millions of property are lost yearly in the South, that can and must be saved. Let the negro know that he has all the legal rights of the white man—deal with him justly, honestly, firmly—but above all, convince him he shall not steal. Proprietor will find out when he tries it, that an advertisement is not legal evidence to persons who cannot read. You must tell them of the posting, and you will soon know that instead of bright rifles and muskets, they will be up in the corner, rusty and dirty.

Respectfully, your ob't serv't,
JNO. F. LATHAM, M. D.,
Chairman Leechville Ag. Club,
Leechville, Beaufort Co., N. C.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Gazette writes on the 6th as follows:

The very few officials now here seem to be much worried at the result of the election in Tennessee. They fear still worse developments in Mississippi and Texas.—The two organs are at loggerheads, one swears in reference to the former, that "it is evident that, as in Virginia, the only real losers are the Republicans, and the only real winners the Democrats, unless, indeed, the Republican professions of the latter should be redeemed, which nobody believes." On the other hand, the Republican, drawing comfort from misfortune, thinks that such "victories" are better just now than "defeats"—the successful Gubernatorial candidates being all "Republican"—very.

Instead of crying over these really unimportant elections—(unimportant in a mere party sense)—the leaders of the Republican party which has been split at the South, contessedly into two more factions) had better cast an eye to what is going on at the North and West, where there is no reconstruction "progressing," and where there are no negro votes to "control." A straw is wafted from Montana, and a total disruption of the Republican party in Kansas is at this moment an accomplished fact. But what is of still greater consequence, Pennsylvania and Ohio are regarded by the Radicals themselves as in imminent peril.

Upon the latter point I quote no newspapers of either party, but the purport of letters sent to this city by the Executive Committees of those States—to the effect that if the recent national appointees are not promptly "suspended," or forced to "contribute," and if large levies are not made upon officials here, and immediately transmitted, most disastrous defeats may be expected.

I am aware that such appeals are very common; and, even when not necessary, resorted to for the purpose of filling the pockets of unprincipled and profligate politicians. This is especially true of those of the Geary persuasion in statesmanship. But the cry of "wolf" this time is no sham. Vehement applications have been addressed to the Heads of all the Departments, and by men (not stereotyped beggars) who evidently feel that necessity of doing something off-time," as they express it. My informant tells me that one of these appeals from Philadelphia for material aid is peculiarly pitiful: "The progress of the reaction must be stopped with money," it says. "We want no such empty endorsements as those which Boutwell and Cresswell gave to the discomfitted Tennesseans. We wouldn't give a damn for the endorsement of Grant himself, if not in the form of negotiable paper."

These facts speak volumes. In consulting with a friend I was advised not to incorporate them in my letter, in view of their tendency to aid Geary and his gang to pick the pockets of the suckers here. But it is my duty to give your readers the truth though the coming eclipse should be the last. Besides, these new comers, when they were taken up, were as poor as snakes in January, and have not yet had time to earn, or a fair opportunity to steal a dollar beyond what is actually necessary to keep life in them. Most of them are still in doubt for the means of bringing them to the scene of their future usefulness. Under these circumstances it is no wonder the "Heads" of the Departments have vanished. Poor Boutwell, it is announced, will not be here again before September. Behold, then, the chances of Radical success next fall.

From the St. Louis Republican of Aug. 2.

HILDERBRAND.

Organization for the Capture of the Notorious Missouri Outlaw—He wants to be let alone—A manifesto from his friends.

Col. W. D. Bowen, on Saturday afternoon, returned from St. Francois county, where he has been for some time prosecuting the campaign against the outlaw, Sam Hilderbrand, who still manages to elude his pursuers. Hilderbrand was seen three days ago, and it appears has no intention of leaving the country. He has two or three friends who stand by him, but so far as the majority of the people are concerned it would seem that they are determined to aid in his capture. Nearly all the towns have held meetings and adopted various resolves, conforming in word and spirit to the resolutions adopted at a general meeting of citizens held at Farmington, on the 19th of July, and previously published. The citizens of Big River township held a meeting on the 24th, and resolved to put 20 men under arms, besides offering a reward of $500 for the capture of the outlaw. A reward of $1,250 was subscribed and offered by the citizens of Perry township. Marion township has 10 men hunting for Hilderbrand, and offers to furnish 100 if necessary. Randolph has organized a company of 150 men, and detailed 10 men specially to report to the sheriff and his special deputies. Libertyville has also organized a force and selected 10 special men. Marion township has organized 80 men, and appointed 10 special men to report to Colonel Bowen. St. Francois township has organized a company, and selected 40 men to go on the hunt. Meantime, Hilderbrand, from his hiding place, continues to look easily and unconcernedly on the movements of his enemies. He feeds on venison. Some of his friends have put forth the following, which reached the party to whom it was directed:

"IN THE WOODS, SOMEWHERE, July 23d, 1869.—Dear Sir:—For the benefit of all whom it may concern: Sam Hilderbrand never harmed any person that did not try to harm him. He knows what awaits him, now that so much excitement has been caused by the people of San Francois and adjoining counties. He does not intend to harm any person if let alone, but should Mr. Murphy and his associates attempt to carry their resolution into execution, I assure you, you will find more than one Hilderbrand in their midst. If they advance a single step forward, I will assure you there will be very few of the 17 who wrote out those resolutions, that will ever participate in the pursuit.

"It is the desire of Hilderbrand to be let alone, and also the desire of his friends. Tell these men they will not be interfered with unless they advance farther toward carrying out their doings, but so soon as they put the first foot down for that purpose, from that moment out they are our enemies, and we will kill every one we meet of them as fast as we see them, preferring to kill before being killed. Hoping you will give them timely warning, and that they will take heed in time and save the trouble that will certainly follow if they persist, allow me to subscribe myself,

"A FRIEND TO THE COMMITTEE OF SEVENTEEN, and others.

"P. S. This letter will be mailed from St. Louis."

A WEDDING PARTY SURPRISED.

A few weeks since, three was a wedding on Baronne Street, New Orleans, celebrated with great eclat, and the newly married set out at once on a bridal tour.

The ceremony took place at four o'clock in the afternoon, and at five o'clock they were on board a splendid steamer bound for Upper Mississippi.

As soon as the vessel was under way the passengers crowded the saloon, and mirth and revelry began to hold a festival.

A dance was improvised, and joy and merriment were protracted into the "wee small hours."

Now, it so happened that the berth next to our newly-married friend was occupied by a lively little matron and her infant.

Wishing to enjoy as much pleasure as possible, she had entrusted her babe to a servant, with instructions to put it to bed as soon as it went to sleep, while she herself joined in the dance.

By a strange mistake the servant mistook the state room, and deposited the rosy infant in the bridal couch.

Now, when the hour for retiring came, the groom led his blushing bride to the door, and modestly waited outside for her to disrobe and retire.

One can very readily imagine his astonishment therefore, when the next instant he heard his name called frantically, and in accents of surprise and distress.

Opening the door he looked in dubiously:

"What's the matter, my love?"

"Oh, Henry, look here!"

"Why, bless me, it's a baby!"

"Yes, but oh, Henry how did it come here—do you think it's ours?"

"Well, no!" replied Henry, solemnly, "I think it almost too soon."

"Oh, it certainly is, but, then, what shall we do?"

Just then the anxious voice of the mother was heard, inquiring for the baby, and it was restored to her, very much to the relief of the young people.

NEW WAY TO TAME A SHREW.—A man in Davenport, Iowa, tried a new way of making his wife more agreeable. He took a paper of magnesia, labelled it arsenic, mixed it in his wife's presence, and, exclaiming, "My dear I will trouble you no more!" swallowed the compound. The lady, seeing the label rushed for the doctor, and the gentleman was pumped out notwithstanding his statement of the case and objections to the contrary.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

JANUARY 1ST., 1869.

Assets $10,462,531,75.

Amount of Income 6,227,071.

SURPLUS OVER LIABILITIES 2,675,999,48.

THE Ætna is the LEADING LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY in North Carolina.

Largest amount of Losses to Widows and Orphans!

The Largest Revenue to the States. And has by far the largest number when compared with 58 Companies reported officially by the Commissioners of New York and Massachusetts it will be seen that the Ætna ranks as one of the first Companies of the Continent. But two of the fifty-eight Companies permitted to do business in New York and Massachusetts had so large an income for the year 1868; but two had so large a number of Policies in force, but one among all those incorporated under the laws of the State of New York had so small a per centage of Expense to Income during the year 1868.

Its expenses are lower than most Companies', and consequently its ability to make and pay liberal dividends to the insured is greater than that of most other Companies. It is one of the great Companies of the land in Income, in Assets, in Number of Policies, in Amount Insured, in Solidity and Strength, in Soundness, Cheapness, Promptness, and Success. Persons contemplating this mode of investment in the future as in the past would do well to examine the claims of all and take a policy accordingly.

Valuable Property for Sale in Raleigh and Wake County.

PURSUANT to a decree of the Court of Equity for this County, I, as Commissioner, will sell at the Court House, to the highest bidder, on the 1st day of September, all of the Real Estate of the late Sarah Stronach, dec'd, to wit:

One House and Lot, in the City of Raleigh, containing two acres, more or less; said house in fair condition, has six rooms and good basement. On the Lot there is a very fine Well of Water and all necessary out-houses. The fences are nearly all of new and sound timber, and the soil in fine condition. There are quite a number of Shade and Fruit Trees on the premises. Also a Lot containing three-fourths of an acre, more or less, near the above mentioned one. Both Lots are on Hargett Street, just beyond the city Cemetery, and on the direct road to the State Fair Grounds. Also a Tract of Land about five miles from the City, which is very well timbered and adjoins the lands of W. E. Pierce and others.

This property will be sold on the 19th day of August A. D. 1869.

Terms made known on day of sale.

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 12, 1869.

SWINGING AROUND THE CIRCLE.

The Standard has told its readers, half a dozen times, more or less, since the Tennessee election, that, "before the election, the Standard declared for Senter." We congratulate that unhappy wanderer in the political wilderness, upon its fortunate hit in regard to Senter; it was not in such good time in regard to Walker of Virginia. True, it rejoiced mightily when it found out Walker was elected, but when we asked it for a word—only one little word—it had spoken in favor of Walker, before the election, it was unable to point to it. But this dilemma taught it a lesson, and it determined to take time by the forelock and not be caught in such another predicament; so, being fully persuaded of the drift events were taking, it, "declared for Senter before the election."

The only pretext the Standard could offer for its pretended gladness at the result in Virginia was, that the Walker party was in unison with the great Republican party, and the Standard was in unison with the same, therefore the Walker triumph was a Republican triumph, and, by implication, a Standard triumph, hence, "it would rejoice and break forth in songs; it would sing with gladness and shout for joy." But now, that Tennessee has gone in the same direction with Virginia, and the Standard was so fortunate as to "declare for Senter before the election," it seems to feel a great degree of self-complacency, and actually prefers the good people of Tennessee some excellent advice in the shape of "Let" thus and so be done.

But, let's see how this matter stands, if possible, for, we must confess that we cannot reconcile the Standard's claims and pretentions with some other facts clearly apparent in the current history of political events. The Walker party in Virginia claims to be catholic and liberal; the Senter party in Tennessee appears to be the same, and the Standard says, "them's our sentiments." But, during the late sessions of our Legislature, numerous efforts were made to pass joint resolutions asking Congress to remove the political disabilities from the proscribed white men of this State—that is to grant "general amnesty" as it is understood in Virginia, Tennessee and by everybody, at this time; but the Standard opposed it and the Radical Legislature killed off the resolutions one after another. So, it is very certain that the Standard has changed its views, or that it is now acting the hypocrite. It will not do to say, the term "general amnesty" does not, or did not contemplate the removal of political disabilities, for all the Southern States enjoyed general amnesty in every other sense, by virtue of the President's proclamation, and the very fact of the introduction of the resolutions into the Legislature of this State, and the incorporation of the same principle into the platform of the party that has triumphed in Virginia and Tennessee, shows that something more was meant than what was already given by the President's amnesty proclamation. The Standard and the party whose organ it is, opposed this policy up to the announcement of the result in Virginia.

But the Standard claims to be in accord with the administration on this subject, as well as with the Conservatives of Virginia and Tennessee. Let us see how that is. We have some reason to believe that there was an understanding between the President and the Committee of leading Virginians in regard to the policy to be adopted in that State; but we have no reason to suppose, for no evidence of the fact was given, that the Standard endorsed this policy; the evidence is to the other way, namely that the sympathy of that paper was with the "Wells extremists," for the defeat of the policy, until after the election.

But the contest in Tennessee follows, and a portion of the more moderate Republicans coalesce with the Democrats and Conservatives of that State and place Senter before the people on the same platform which had carried Walker triumphantly to the Executive Chair in Virginia. Now, why it was that the sauce of the Virginia goose was not good for the Tennessee gander, we are not able to see; but it is evident it was not thought to be, by the administration at Washington. The Standard must have felt a little "streaked" after having "declared in favor of Senter," to see members of the President's Cabinet writing letters, committing the administration in favor of Stokes and declaring that the Radicals in that State represented the only true Republican party, and that the administration at Washington desired their success, and would employ its influence and authority in their behalf.—The truth cannot be denied that the whole weight of the administration at Washington was cast in favor of Stokes, and the success of Senter was a triumph at once over the Radicals of Tennessee and the administration at Washington. How the Standard can reconcile the difficulty and show itself in accord with both, is a question of that metaphysical nature that none but the subtle genius of the Standard can solve.

It is our private opinion that, while the "Standard" was a little too late in throwing up its hat for Virginia, it was rather hasty in "declaring for Senter before the election," unless, indeed it intends to follow its instincts and get on the strong side—administration or no administration. It is swinging round the circle, and will get into the popular current, if possible; but, we warn it in time, there is one thing it cannot do; it cannot lug in on its shoulders the men of its party who have, in this State, exerted all their influence to fasten proscription and heap indignity upon our best and most honored citizens. It cannot "tote" in the men who have oppressed our people, robbed the treasury and transformed (or rather deformed) our State and domestic policy. These things the "Standard" cannot do, and if it attempts to come in with such a burden, it will certainly sink under it, before it reaches "the portals of the Ideal," for which it now seems a-tuggling.

SUDDEN CONVERSIONS.

In times of revolution, men live fast; events of a century are crowded into hours, and old habits of thought are suddenly broken or turned into new and strange channels. Thoughts and actions which, at first, inspired only contempt and disgust, in a short time become endurable, then attractive.

When Governor Holden illuminated his house, set out his wine and drank rejoicingly with the Federal army while occupying the Capital of the State, no men were so disgusted as Cantwell, Rodman, Barringer, Erwin, (Col. Marc.,) Badham and Gen. Phil. B. Hawkins. They felt only loathing and disgust for him. In process of time, (with the end of the bait visible) Holden became endurable; they nibbled at the bait a little, and then Holden became quite attractive; and, now, they can't live without him.

Cantwell is said to have cried "like a baby," when he learned of Holden's apostasy and disgrace. Cantwell, Dick, Settle, Rodman and Watts, had always paid assiduous court to Holden; they regarded him as the ground work—the very mudsill—of their political fortunes, and so they regard him to this day, and notwithstanding the contempt with which they were compelled to regard him when he sold himself to the carpet bag and radical influence against the welfare of his own State, yet they cling to him like the vine to the blasted and decaying trunk of the tree, knowing that he is the only support they can hope for.

Comparing mice with men, it may not be uninteresting to those who have witnessed the sudden conversion of Holden, Rodman and company, to read what Macaulay, the historian, says of the sudden conversions and disgraceful conduct of certain great men in the time of James the Second.—"Edward, Viscount Cornbury, eldest son of Earl Clarendon, was a young man of slender abilities, loose principles and violent temper. He commanded one of the regiments of dragoons, which had been sent westward. Cornbury put himself at the head of three regiments and marched towards Dorchester. Suspicion was awakened and searching questions were put and evasively answered. He replied that he had instructions to make a night attack upon the Prince of Orange. His orders were at last called for, but he could not produce them. Finding himself in a situation of peril, he at length stole away, with a few followers, to the camp of the enemy. The tidings of Cornbury's defection reached James as he was sitting down to dinner; he turned away from his untasted meal, swallowed a crust of bread and a glass of wine, and retired to his closet. While he was retiring from the table several Lords in whom he reposed the greatest confidence, were shaking hands and congratulating each other in the adjoining gallery.

When the news was carried to the Queen's apartments, she and her ladies broke out in tears and loud cries of sorrow. The blow was a heavy one. Cornbury was heir of a house conspicuous for its attachments to monarchy. His father, Clarendon, his uncle, Rochester, were men whose loyalty was supposed to be proof against all temptation."

Cornbury, like Holden, was soon kept in countenance by a crowd of deserters, superior to him in rank and capacity; but for a few days, he stood alone in his shame, and was bitterly reviled by many who afterwards imitated his example and envied his dishonorable precedence. Among these was his own father. The first outbreak of Clarendon's rage and sorrow was highly pathetic. "O, God!" he exclaimed, "that a son of mine should be a rebel!" A fortnight later, he made up his mind to become a rebel himself.

There is no man in North Carolina who has not been overwhelmed with astonishment at Holden's villainy. Yet, many of them who were most shocked, at first, are now actually paying secret court to him, and are expecting honors, place and pay from the man whom they looked upon as politically infamous above all others.

ALMOST A RIOT.—Almost a riot occurred in Missouri city, a few days since, in consequence of an attempt on the part of about a dozen colored men, to force out of town a colored man named William Price, who was formerly owned by General Sterling Price, and was his body servant during the war. "Old Pap's" faithful adherent refused to be banished, and the affair was finally settled by the intervention of the town marshal who marched the ringleader off to jail.

MARRIED AND SINGLE.—It is asserted that marriage operates as a bond to keep the peace and obey the law, since the police statistics of New York city show that in 1868, 58,943 men arrested by the police for a violation of the law, 32,700 were single and 26,243 were married, and of 21,589 women arrested, 13,144 were single and 8,445 were married—making a total of 45,844 single and 34,688 married, or a majority or 11,156 single persons.

A Southern farmer deposited $3,300 worth of government bonds in the ash hole of his smokehouse for safe keeping. His wife knowing nothing of the circumstance, a few days ago, wishing to smoke some bacon, built a fire in the smokehouse and reduced the bonds to cinders.

For the Sentinel.

WAKE FOREST COLLEGE, Aug. 3, 1869.

Mr. Editor:—Leaving our beautiful "City of Oaks" temporarily this morning, after enjoying a pleasant hour's ride on the R. & G. Railroad through the refreshing morning air, in an elegant coach manufactured at the shops of the above Road, I arrived at Forestville, a quiet little village pleasantly nestled in a beautiful grove of native oaks, just one mile from this place. Thinking a sketch of my little tour might not be entirely devoid of interest to some of your readers, I propose to employ a leisure hour in this way. I must premise by saying a word of praise in behalf of the fast but old bridge which has so often carried me over safely. Capt. Timberlake who has spent many years of efficient service on this road, politely conducted us, and Rufus Horton, who has also been on the Road almost continuously for the last twenty years or more, I suppose, safely engineered us out on this occasion. Too much praise cannot be bestowed on this safe old Road. It runs as near to time, has as few accidents and is conscientiously as well managed as any Road in the whole country. Its whole corps of managers from the humblest operative to its able, popular and distinguished President, are right men in the right places and altogether safe, reliable and excellent. Nor is good management a new thing with this Road; for even in its by gone snake-head days it was safe. It was during those better and happier days that I first traveled on this Road. These widely known, polite and accommodating conductors, Captains Horton, Reagan and the late lamented Capt. S. D. Beves (who was subsequently Superintendent during the Presidency of the lamented Gen. L. O'B. Branch,) were conductors at that time. Capt. Horton is still on the Road, Capt. Reagan having voluntarily quit the Road, a number of years before the war in consequence of his health. Many and alternately sad and pleasing are the incidents and reminiscences, which this morning's trip over the Road, suggested to my mind. To mention them all, would make my letter by far too long; I will content myself with relating only a few. While passing the embankment over the pigeon house branch, not far from the city, I was reminded of a laughable incident which occurred many years ago, soon after the completion of the Road. There was an eccentric old man (well remembered by many of our citizens) who though descended from a highly respectable family, nevertheless led a wayward and reckless life, and who was very hard of hearing. This old man was accustomed during the spring and summer seasons to fill a long, old fashioned gourd which he carried by a string around his neck, with plums and other fruits and carry them to town. Buckhorn Tucker had given him a large tell crown hat, measuring something less than a half bushel at the crown, and "growing beautifully less and smaller by degrees, towards the brim. With his big tell crown on, and a gourd of plums around his neck, Mike was wending his way to town. Now be it known that Mike had a most unconquerable fear of the cars.—When about midway of this embankment trudging along, he looked up, and horror of horrors! there came the "stray road," as he called it stewing and smoking around the curve just before him. Frightened almost to death and thinking it impossible to get out of the way otherwise, Mike, bell-crown, gourd and plums, all went rolling over and over, it seeming hard to tell which would reach bottom first, down the embankment to the great amusement of the passengers on the train. The cars went whizzing past the old fellow; as, having reached the base of the embankment, he rose to his feet brushing the red clay from his bald pate, he exclaimed, looking after the cars, "tam the stray road!" Passing over Crabtree, in whose rippling waters I had often angled when a boy; we were soon passing the former residence of that prince of good fellows, the late Jacob Mordecai, Esq., or the "Gentleman from Marsh creek," as he used humorously to term himself. Poor fellow; in addition to dispensing with a large and liberal hospitality at home, which I thought he knew how to do with as much "aristocratic" grace and cordiality as any man I ever saw; he was fond of assembling the neighborhood boys and his city friends, around some cool spring when fun and frolic, barbecue and "suthin" stronger withal were the order of the day. Well do I remember how he enjoyed those occasions. No man perhaps ever died in Wake county whose death was more regretted, or whose memory is more fondly cherished than that of Jacob Mordecai. Peace to his ashes. We are now at Milbrook, which I bow indescribably sad and touching, are the emotions that swell my mind at this point.—Not far from here stands the old homestead around which thousands of past and sacred endearing memories sadly and sweetly love to linger, as around but one spot on earth. The home of childhood; oh, what magic and charm in the very name—but I must leave this enchanted spot with its hallowed associations and pass on near the old school house site, where I studied upwards of thirty years ago. The associations most sacred, perhaps, next to those which cluster around our child hood's home, are those connected with our early school boy days. They were excavating the cut through which we are now so swiftly gliding, when we were a boy at school on yonder site. Oh! what changes, what changes, have intervened between that day and this, but I must not linger too long amid these dear scenes of the past, for my letter is becoming already too long. We are now passing through another cut, across which the "Jeffreys' boys" felled trees to obstruct the cars not long after the completion of the Road. Some difficulty arose as to indemnity for the right of way. The Jeffreys retained the Hon. W. H. Haywood as their counsel, and he advised the bold measures which they adopted. Great excitement prevailed in the neighborhood in regard to the matter, but the measure recommended by their distinguished counsel, resulted in a settlement of the difficulty.—Passing by Huntsville which used to be a considerable place, but which has been superseded by Dunnsville, we now have reached Powell's Academy, which was once the seat of a flourishing female school, in charge of Miss Martha Richardson, an eminent instructress from New Hampshire. I attended a public examination there many years ago, when the scene of Bonapart's divorcement of the Empress, Josephine, was splendidly enacted. Ransom Harris, son of John W. Harris, Esq., represented Bonapart and Miss Bettie Dunn represented Josephine. Miss Ann Eliza Pullen, a beautiful and much admired young lady, long since passed into the spirit land, represented Hortense, the daughter of Josephine. The sad scene was well enacted and elicited much feeling, there being but few tearless eyes in the large assembly, during its touching performance. Passing swiftly on, we have now reached a point which reminds me of something of a romantic incident in my own youthful life. At a camp meeting at Bank's Chapel, in Granville county, many years ago, I met my sweetheart and learned that, on a certain Saturday, she would be on the train en route for home. The train was due at about 10 o'clock A. M.; but lest by 9, this child was at the Road, so determined was he on being in time for the train. The hours of ten, eleven &c., to three o'clock P. M. wearily were on and still no train with its loved treasure aboard appeared. Fearing if night ensued I would not be able to signal and stop the train, I concluded to start for Forestville about two miles distant, in the direction of the expected train. I had not proceeded far before I met some train hands with buckets who had been sent on in advance to procure water for the engine, (water stations being scarce and imperfect on the Road in those days) and who informed me that the long expected train was at Forestville. Hurrying on with the joyful hope of soon meeting my Dulcenia, I reached the village and sure enough found my hearts idol there.—"We met 'twas in a crowd" &c. After supper, we left Forestville and after a happy trip of ten miles, we reached the disembarking point, and as our arrival was beyond the expected hour no one was in waiting for us; so we had a happy walk of half a mile by moonlight alone. Every lover can appreciate the happiness I enjoyed during this delightful hour, when no listening ears were nigh to catch loving, coy and impassioned tones. It is needless perhaps, to add that the heroine of the above little bit of romance has been the sharer of my joys and sorrows for these many years. Other incidents and reminiscences I might add, but enough, after a few words as to Wake Forrest College, for the present. It will be gratifying to the friends of this useful Institution to know that the new session has opened under flattering auspices. It is a good College and has an able an efficient corps of Professors. This Colleges has turned out in its time a great many good and useful men. It well deserves the patronage of the public. It is healthfully and delightfully situated in the midst of a refined and intelligent community and surrounded by an undulating and romantic country abounding in beautiful landscapes and pleasant scenery

I am stopping with Mrs. Battle who keeps a very good house. Several ladies from the eastern part of the State are spending the Summer at this healthful and delightful retreat. Dr. Pritchard and family from Raleigh are also spending a week or two here; but I must close this already too long letter or you will not likely want again to hear from your humble correspondent.

WANDERER.

THE GREAT ECLIPSE.

To the Editor of the Sentinel:

The afternoon of the 7th of August, 1869, will long be remembered in this part of North Carolina, as a time of a total eclipse of the sun—a phenomenon which, before that day, had not occurred in this region within the memory of the oldest living inhabitant. During the morning the weather was cloudy, but in the afternoon the clouds rolled away, and left the Western sky as clear as the observer could desire. The eclipse commenced precisely at the time when calculations of astronomers led us to expect it at this point, (a little after 5 o'clock) and progressed beautifully until 6 minutes and 28 seconds after 6 o'clock, when the brigat crescent on the upper part of the sun's disk which had become very small, disappeared instantaneously, and the sun was entirely obscured. The total obscuration last ed two minutes and seventeen seconds, and then, sudden as a flash of lightning, the solar light burst upon us from the lower part of the disc with dazzling splendor. This sudden bursting of the light is doubtless owing to the fact that the moon has no atmosphere like ours. If she had such an atmosphere, the solar rays, on this occasion, would have disappeared and reappeared gradually, like the evening and morning twilight. During the period of total obscuration, the sun was surrounded by a broad, well defined ring of pale light, known as the corona, which added greatly to the grandeur of the scene. The planet Venus shone out brightly, and a few stars were visible. The eclipse, while total, did not produce such great darkness as we expected, but it cast over the whole face of nature, as far as the eye could see, a most dismal shadow. It was neither day, nor night, nor twilight. Nothing like it, we suppose, is ever seen, except during a total eclipse of the sun. The azure of the sky was changed to a sombre and livid hue. Every thing on the land seemed shrouded in gloom; and the ocean, under the shadowy pall, looked as leaden and dreary as the Dead Sea of Palestine. We could not fail to perceive that the air became sensibly cooler. This effect of a total eclipse of the sun has been felt before. During such a phenomenon at Geneva, May 12, 1706, an observer says "a sensible coldness took place."

The eclipse, while total, was a magnificent spectacle, a solemn and sublime phenomenon—worth travelling a thousand miles to see. Every body in its path, who could see, we suppose, looked upon it. Even the boys on the street, in this place, suspended their usual sports, gave expression to their feelings in exclamations of wonder at the glorious scene, and hailed the returning sunlight with shouts of joy.

At sunset a small portion of the sun was still eclipsed.

OBSERVER.

BEAUFORT, N. C. Aug. 8, 1869.

OLIVE LOGAN.—She Knows How to Kick up a Sensation.—Miss Olive Logan, the pink of women's rights women, is now taking her ease at Long Branch, and some naughty fellow has taken the liberty of getting up a pen photograph of her looks and habits. He says: "Olive is getting handsomer and ruder every day. She gets up every morning at five o'clock, and walks four miles before breakfast, all alone. After breakfast she puts on a brown linen suit, and goes down to the beach to bathe in the bloomer costume. She is the best swimmer of her sex, so far; paddles, floats, treads water, dives, swims backward, and scares the bathing-master by going way out where the sharks are. After the bath she puts on a blue, dress, and plays billiards for two hours to the astonishment of the marker, who swears he never saw the like. Then she puts on a gorgeous silk for dinner, and after dinner she goes out driving, and the way she handles the ribbons is a caution to Grant. In the evening she puts on a satin dress, with a long train, and all befurbelowed with red velvet and yellow lace, and goes to some hotel where there is a hop, and here she comes out even stronger than in bath, billiards or bowling along the avenue. At 11 o'clock, she comes home, puts on a suit of brown merino, and writes woman's rights till bed time."

The St. Louis Democrat is informed by a gentleman from Southeast Missouri that Sam Hilderbrand, the famous outlaw, has left the State. He says the organizations of companies in St. Francois, Madison and Washington counties do not amount to anything, as they were gotten up to satisfy the Governor and prevent him from sending militia into those counties—He thinks Hilderbrand will never be captured, as he has many friends and is always on his guard. Those who are disposed to betray him for the sake of the reward are afraid of the vengeance of his friends. The excitement is subsiding.

John Nugent, a coachman and gardener for Henry Bergh, the President of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, makes affidavit that his master is guilty of a serious assault and battery upon the aforesaid Nugent, and that, during his term of service, Mr. B. "did not treat him as well as he would a snapping turtle."

DIED:

In this City, on Tuesday night, 10th inst., WM. H. GERRETY, aged 37 years. He was a native of Warren County, in this State, but had lived a number of years in Raleigh. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn their bereavement.

SPARKLING CATAWBA SPRINGS,

CATAWBA COUNTY, N. C.

THIS CELEBRATED WATERING PLACE, formerly called the North Carolina White Sulphur Springs, will be open for visitors on Tuesday, the first day of June next.

Being situated in the northwestern part of the State, in a country remarkable for its beauty and healthfulness—these, together with the virtues of the waters, make it one of the most desirable watering places to be found.

The MINERAL WATERS of these Springs are the White and Blue Sulphur and Chalybeate or Iron, and they possess all the finest qualities of these waters, and are sovereign remedies for all diseases of the liver, bowels, stomach and kidneys, eruptions of the skin, scrofula, weakness, debility dyspepsia, rheumatism, &c.

The proprietor having spent a large amount in additional buildings and improvements generally, these Springs are now in a fine condition, rooms large and pleasant, and good cottages containing from two to six rooms each, well arranged for either large or small families.

Good TEN PIN ALLEYS, BILLIARD TABLES and other amusements.

FINE BATH HOUSES, for Pool, Plunge or Shower Bath, Sulphur Bath, Hot or Cold.

A GOOD BAND OF MUSIC

Will be at the Springs the entire season, and a good Physician permanently located for the benefit of invalids, who will have every attention.

Having secured the services of Mr. J. N. Carter, of Virginia, who has had much experience and stands high as a Hotel keeper, visitors may rest assured that my table will be supplied with the best the market can afford, and everything done that will add to their pleasure and comfort.

The cars on the Western North Carolina Rail Road will leave Salisbury for Hickory Station, the Springs' depot, every morning, (Sundays excepted,) in connection with the North Carolina Railroad, avoiding stoppage or delay at Salisbury, and arrive at Hickory Station in time for breakfast, where good hacks will be in readiness to take passengers over a beautiful, well-shaded road to the Springs—a distance of six miles.

As an inducement for families and parties to spend two months or more, I have concluded to put board down at the following low rates:

BOARD:

For one single month,	$30 00
For two or more months, $40 per month, or at that rate.
Per week,	10 00
Per day,	2 50

Read the advertisement of the University Lecturers.

DeRossett & Co., of Wilmington, have received by direct importation from Liverpool, the Iron Cotton Ties, &c.

Look out on the 18th for Amateur Minstrels at Tucker Hall. Good music and a good time generally may be expected.

700 lbs nicely cured N. C. bacon for sale by W. C. Stronach & Co.

A meeting of "Oak City Council" F. of T., will be held at their Hall to night at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

Look out for the Comet. It is said by astronomers that we are to have the visit of a Comet this year, and some declare it is already visible to the naked eye, in the Northern part of the heavens from, eleven o'clock at night until daylight hides it in the morning. We have not seen it yet, but expect to, if it be there.

WARRENTON FEMALE COLLEGE, under the Presidency of Rev. T. M. Jones, opens the Fall session to-day. We learn that the present prospect for a much fuller attendance than was anticipated, is flattering. Several young ladies from the eastern part of the State, have passed through this city for Warrenton already, and a number will leave the city for the College during the latter part of this and first of next week. No institution in the State offers superior advantages in location, healthfulness, society, Church privileges, and the capacity of the Professors and Teachers, than is offered by the Warrenton Female College.

WE are under obligations to Capt. T. F. Lee, our Sheriff, for a copy of the Weekly News, published in Dublin Ireland, and also of the Fraloe Chronicle and Killarney Echo.

FINE SMOKING TOBACCO.—We are indebted to Mr. E. W. Morris, of Franklinton, for a couple of packages of his fine smoking tobacco. Mr. Morris was a member of the old firm of R. F. Morris & Son, of Durham's, and knows all the secrets of manufacturing the celebrated "Durham Smoking Tobacco," and the sample we have received shows that he has not forgotten how it's done.

WE ARE indebted to E. Young, Chief Clerk of the Bureau of Statistics for a monthly report of imports of foreign articles for the month of May.

The Standard commenced the issue of two daily editions yesterday. The present arrangement of the mails make this necessary to meet the wants of readers.

A KEENE PARAGRAPH.—We understand that a telegram has been received here, engaging Tucker Hall for Laura Keene who will be in Raleigh next week. Laura was to have been here once before, but didn't come, we hope we shall be more fortunate this time.

A RELIC OF THE OLDEN TIMES.—Some friend has sent us a tabular statement of the depreciation of the old Continental currency in North Carolina and South Carolina, from the year 1777 to 1782.

In South Carolina, on 1st January 1777, it was at par, 1778, one hundred dollars was worth 2214; in 1779, 761; and in January 1780, it fell to 3775, and in May of the same year to 5248.

In North Carolina, on the 1st of January, 1779, one dollar was worth a dollar in specie; in January 1778, one dollar specie was worth 3.50, in 1778, 6.00, in 1780, 38.00, in 1781, 210.00, in 1782, 800 00.

The above exhibits a state of depreciation something like our late Confederate currency, but the latter had the advantage in loss, owing to the improvement in the art of making paper money.

ON ACCOUNT of the great number of wonderful CURES of obstinate and inveterate cases of SCROFULA, DYSPEPSIA, LIVER DISEASE, KIDNEY AFFECTIONS, GENERAL BAD HEALTH, &c., made by the celebrated "KOSKOO," it has won the enviable reputation of being the best and most popular medicine ever discovered. It is daily prescribed by physicians, and recommended by many thousands of our best citizens. For sale by Druggists and Merchants everywhere.

Ladies suffering from any disease peculiar to their sex, can be restored to health by using DR. LAWRENCE'S "WOMAN'S FRIEND". It purifies the secretions, and restores the system to a healthy condition.

EDUCATIONAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are requested to announce that the National Educational Association will convene in Trenton, New Jersey, on the 16th of the present month and will sit several days. Delegates from this State can go and return for one fare. They should purchase a return ticket from Raleigh to Baltimore, from Baltimore to Philadelphia, and from Philadelphia to Trenton.

STATE EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION.—The committee appointed at the last meeting of the Chatham Educational Association, to call a meeting of the Teachers of the State, have fixed upon Raleigh as the place, and the 14th of October as the time, for this meeting. We hope to see a full attendance of teachers and friends of education at that time. It is of great importance that the educational interests of the State should be looked after. The committee will, we are informed, soon issue a formal call, and in the meantime we suggest to the papers of the State to use their influence in their respective localities to awaken an interest on the subject, by calling timely attention to it.

TEN MONTHS' WORK.—To obtain from Congress a charter enabling an association of financiers to transact business in every State of the Union; to organize a company under such a charter; to open a main office and install a staff of officers therein; to select leading financiers and business men as general agents for transacting the business of the Company in the several sections of the country; to have these general agents so carefully examine their respective districts as to select the most efficient and respected men as county agents; to have these county agents, in turn, make judicious selection of local agents in cities, towns and villages; to prepare the multiplicity of blanks, forms, orders, instructions, pamphlets and other documents with which to supply all these agencies; to inform the public, through the medium of the newspaper press, of the existence of such an organization, the financial basis upon which it rests, and the ground-work of its claims to public approval and support;—these things would seem to be sufficient to occupy the first twelve months of such an organization, leaving to subsequent years the accomplishment of actual results. But we find a notable exception to such a course in the case of the National Life Insurance Company of America, chartered by Congress in July, 1868, and consequently not yet one year old. It has had all of the above mentioned work to do, and it is but rational that, in doing this, it should have met with the opposition of old established insurance companies. But the new Company has done far more. Indeed, its successful record, for the first ten months of its operation, has been most remarkable, and utterly unprecedented. It has already issued no less than 5,395 policies, representing insurance to the amount of over fifteen millions, an amount exceeding by nearly $5,000,000 that insured by any Company prior to 1863, in any full year of its existence, and nearly double that ever insured by any other company in the world, during its entire first year. After such an authenticated statement, there can be no doubt what the investing public thinks of the National Life.

Some of the especial advantages offered by this Company are set forth in the advertisement of P. F. Pescud the General Agent for North Carolina, in another column, and its operations will be explained, in further detail, at the office of this agency. We believe the National Life to be well secured—the paid up capital of one million dollars is a good base to start from—and that it will be honestly as well as successfully carried on.

See advertisement of P. F. Pescud, the successful and very popular General Agent, for N. C., in another column.

ARREST OF AN EX-CONFEDERATE OFFICER.—Major John H. Pratt, of the late Confederate army, who was arrested in New York last week, charged with riot and murder in Jeffersonville, Texas, in October last, will probably have a hearing to-day. The New York Post says diligent search has been made for this man for nearly a year past, and his pursuit and arrest is said to have cost the government $10,000. Another account says:

"He was taken before Commissioner Osborn on Friday, on a charge of having, on the 4th of October, 1868, while confined with several other prisoners under a guard of U. S. troops, in the town of Jefferson, Texas, forced the guard in complicity with thirty six others among the prisoners, and murdered G. W. Smith, Lewis Grant, and Richard Stewart, members of the guard. He is also charged with treason, but on what grounds the warrant for his arrest does not specify.

"Four of the persons implicated with him are now in custody in Texas. He is represented as the ringleader of the others, and the most strenuous efforts have been made for weeks past to secure his arrest, both by detectives from police headquarters and by Deputy Marshal Crowley, and these officers have on more than one occasion come near arresting the wrong person.

"Deputy Marshal Crowley finally succeeded in capturing Pratt about half-past ten o'clock on Thursday night in Fourth street, near Washington Square. He was materially aided in identifying Pratt by a wound on one of Pratt's legs, which he received in making his escape from the guard, but which he claims to have received in battle. He is a determined looking man, of good presence and soldierly bearing.

"He was remanded to the custody of the marshal, ostensibly for an examination on Monday next."

THE FILLIBUSTER RYAN—HORSE WHIPPING A SECRETARY.—Clifton House, Niagara Falls, August 9.—James H. Day formerly private secretary to General Ryan, arrived here last Friday with letters purporting to come from the Cuban Junta in New York, asking General Ryan to return to New York immediately with Day. Ryan, suspected the letters to be forgeries, accused Day of treachery, which the latter was finally compelled to admit, whereupon Ryan gave him an unmerciful horse-whipping. Day on his knees begged for mercy, but none was shown him until the guests rushed in and took the whip from the General.

A PROPHET BEATEN.—Dennis J. Toomey, formerly a clerk in the office of the Secretary of the Treasury, and subsequently chief clerk to Gen. Wisewell, in Washington, is one of the two Gentiles just elected to the Utah Legislature, defeating the Mormon candidates for those positions.

NEWS ITEMS FROM THE HILLSBORO RECORDER.—A LAD SHOT.—One day last week two sons of James E. Howe, of Chapel Hill, were out hunting. One of the lads supposing his gun unloaded was working on the lock when it went off and wounded his brother in the foot.

CHAPEL HILL.—The smoke house of T. M. Kirkland was broken into last Wednesday night. Nothing was stolen because nothing was there. Mr. Kirkland was on hand and fired two shots at the scoundrels.

The Recorder gives a full account of the raid on the jail at Hillsboro on Sunday morning last. In addition to the particulars we gave yesterday, which were about correct, so far as they went, we add the following from the Recorder:

They took the two negroes out and rode off with them out of town—in good order. The negroes were found the next morning. One had a flesh wound made by a pistol through his thigh; the other was unhurt. These negroes say that these men took them on top of a hill outside of town and with loaded pistols at their heads demanded they should tell all about the barn burning—That on their protesting their ignorance the Captain of these men ordered them not to be hurt—that he did not believe them guilty. The Captain and a majority of the men rode off;—but a few of them still lingered behind and putting out the lights they cried "lets shoots the d—d scoundrels anyhow"—and fired some two or three shots and rode off. This is the account that the negro prisoners give.

APPEARANCE OF THE MEN.

Their attire was a long gown as white as a lily. A shrouding sheet over their face with just two holes for their eyes. Funeral crape was tied around their waist. They cackled like guineas and kept up a chattering like so many swallows. Some had long white beaks through which they chattered, and when ever the gang moved there was a cackling among them of "Ker Kluck" "Ker Kluck," &c. One of our citizens ran to his door with a light—but he was ordered back. Another was ordered to get off the street. Further than this not a word was said.

PURSUIT.

The Sheriff with a posse of citizens—white and black—scoured the country for track of these lawless men, but to no avail. It is certainly a bad state of affairs we have fallen into. We need strong and intelligent men to administer the law.

TWO TO ONE.—Joe Thomas—a negro of this county—has been muchly married.—Joseph had sported with a colored miss and married her not—but still they lived and loved together. And after awhile—Joseph, he loved another gal—and this time he got out license and was just fixing to get out of town to marry his second love when lo!—his first love rose up as a spectre before him and said "you Joe!"—and Joseph wilted. She threatened to indite. And Joe, he promised to marry her right there and then. So he got out a second license and they were married on Wednesday at 11 o'clock. But—shade of B. Young!—at 3 o'clock on the same day Joseph with his first license in his second breeches pocket was married to his second love. And now Joseph is lawfully married unto two wives—one more in our opinion than any one man can conveniently husband in these times.

GENERAL NEWS.

A few Parisian gourmands lately dined on rats and expressed themselves delighted with the delicious and succulent qualities of the meat.

Two wrongs made a right in the case of a Liverpool seaman, recently tried for bigamy. He proved that one of his wives was his aunt, and therefore not his wife, and was discharged.

A crazy Indianian evinces his insanity by buying coffins for all his friends and sending them on with his compliments.

Business at the Springfield Armory is lively again. It now employs five hundred workmen on a new breech-loading rifle.

Greeley says that two-thirds of the income returns of New York are fraudulent, like Radical election returns.

In Alabama the Democrats elect four out of the six Congressmen. This is a gain of four members for the Democrats."

A New York correspondent says that in a recent sermon, Henry Ward Beecher, in making the exhortation to his audience, said, "When you are in Rome, you must do as the Romans do; and when you are in Hell, you must do as the Hellites do!"

The Radical press of Virginia call colored men "niggers" since the election. That's a mild retaliation upon the colored gentlemen for so thoroughly thrashing the Radicals.

In British East Indies the railway companies have lately begun to provide coffins for the passengers they kill, or who die on the trains. The coffins are kept at the stations along the lines of the several roads, ready for use at a moment's notice. This precaution has been rendered necessary by the intense heat of the climate, which accelerates decomposition, and by the frequency of fatal accidents.

Probably the most popular music ever published in America were the songs, words and music of Stephen C. Foster. Of his song, "Old Folks at home," two hundred and fifty thousand copies were sold, and as almost equal number of "Nelly was a Lady," "Beautiful Dreamer," and "Come where my Love lies Dreaming."

An Illinois woman had her husband arrested a few days ago for whipping her. He was fined $3, and the woman claimed half of the fine for informing on her husband.

HORRIBLE CASE OF MURDER.

For several days past a lady from New York has been visiting our city for the benefit of her health, who has lately lost a child under the following circumstances: For some time before the death of the babe it was principally entrusted to the care of a nurse, a girl of fifteen years, who appeared to be very fond of it. The mother noticed, however, that nearly every time the nurse had the child in care it became subject to spasms, which gradually increased. The brother of the parent, who is a practicing physician, several times examined the infant, and could see no reason why it should be unwell, and one time charged the girl with giving it poison in some shape.—The nurse at first denied the charge, but at last acknowledged that she had occasionally given it soothing syrup of a kind well known. After this she was watched more closely, but could not be detected in doing any harm. But the child continued to get worse, and the nurse was at last discharged. Medicine, however, could do no good for the babe, and it soon died. Since then it has been discovered that the nurse was in the habit of pricking the child with a pin back of one of its ears, and that eventually it festered in the head, and thus caused its death. The authorities of New York city are endeavoring to discover the whereabouts of the young lady, when she will be tried for murder.—Harrisburg (Pa.) Patriot, Aug. 6.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The following statement is made public by permission of the President: In an interview with Gen. Tarbell, the Secretary of the Republican Executive Committee of Mississippi, at the residence of Secretary Fish in this City, on the 6th inst., President Grant remarked upon the small number of Republicans engaged in the National Republican party, in Mississippi, using the name of Judge Dent, and said that in his judgment, the fact was in itself evidence that they could not be otherwise than used by the opposition. The President said that his only desire was peace and amity, and he would do anything that was right to bring that about, but that these people cast suspicion on their motives by the fact that all their efforts seemed to be aimed at dividing, not uniting, the Republican party in their midst. If they were really in earnest they would not be so anxious about those with whom they acted. Sincere men it could not be difficult to tell who in the South were, and had been, the administration's friends.

The President also stated, that in his conversations with gentlemen representing the new Republican party in Mississippi, he had expressed himself much more emphatically against their course than he had to General Tarbell.

He said he fully endorsed Gen. Ames' administration, and that that officer would have to do many and more serious things than he had yet heard him charged with, before he (Ames) would subject himself to removal.

Revenue $379,000.

Gen. Canby, commanding in Virginia, and the President had a long interview.

Spinner directs the Assistant Treasurer to withdraw legal tender 10's from circulation.

The secretary of Legation of the Mexican Minister, Marisical, at their interview, were very cordial and mutually complimentary; not much else in them.

The Mexican Claims Commission have organized but are yet engaged on rules of order, which being perfected, they will take a recess of several days.

The President has intimated, neither in conversation nor by letter, a desire that Judge Dent should withdraw from the Mississippi canvass. In view of the present complication, Judge Dent re-asserts that he will canvass the State of Mississippi in favor of the Conservative Republican candidates, whether he or another heads the ticket.

ALABAMA.

MOBILE, Aug. 11.—F. Reid, a prominent citizen of this place, who was accused, by the Radicals, of firing the first shot at the Radical meeting on last Thursday night, gave himself up for trial yesterday, and was honorably acquitted by the Mayor this morning.

Some eighteen whites and colored citizens of unimpeached integrity, both for prosecution and defence were examined and were positively that Reid did not fire a shot. There was but one witness who swore that Reid fired. He was a negro, named Abraham Brown, and has evidently perjured himself.

FROM WILMINGTON.

WILMINGTON Aug. 11.—Weather clear. Wind East. Thermometer 80.

The steamer "W. P. Clyde" sailed for New York.

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The Secretary of State instructs Marshal Barlow to deliver Spanish gunboats to the custody of the Commander of the Navy Yard at Brooklyn.

Judge McCunn orders the discharge of the Texan Pratt, but as Pratt is at Fort Lafayette, it don't appear how the decision is to be enforced.

The Bankers who pleaded "guilty" to the charge of usury, were fined $50, except two, who were committed for 5 and 10 days.

ALBANY, Aug. 11.—Contending parties hold defiant ends of the tunnel on the Susquehanna Railroad, several fights have taken place in which several were wounded. Militia has gone to the spot.

[LATER.]

Contending parties have yielded the Road to Gov. Hoffman.

FROM PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11.—43,000 cigars have been seized for non-payment of revenue tax.

FROM OHIO.

COLUMBUS, Aug. 11.—The Democratic Central Committee nominated G. H. Pendleton for Governor; Pendleton accepts.

FROM ALABAMA.

MONTGOMERY, Aug. 11.—A petition from some of the Republicans of Mobile, was made on yesterday to Gov. Smith, asking him to place that city under martial law.

A delegation from the citizens of Mobile arrived here to day, and had a interview with the Governor which was satisfactory and resulted in his deeming to put the city under military rule.

"Fresh as a Maiden's Blush" is the pure peachy Complexion which follows the use of Hagan's Magnolia Balm. It is the True Secret of Beauty Fashionable Ladies in Society understand this.

The Magnolia Balm changes the rustic Country Girl into a City Belle more rapidly than any other one thing.

Redness, Sunburn, Tan, Freckles, Blotches and all effects of the Summer Sun disappear where it is used, and a genial, cultivated, fresh expression is obtained which rivals the Bloom of Youth. Beauty is possible to all who will invest 75 cents at any respectable store and insist on getting the Magnolia Balm.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,

For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required, by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails from any fault or neglect of its composition. We have, and can show, thousands upon thousands of certificates of remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and why should we publish them? Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the whole system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus. There are numerous cases where a purgative is required, which we cannot enumerate here, but they suggest themselves to everybody, and where the virtues of this Pill are known, the public no longer doubt what to employ.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for inclipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that it is unnecessary to publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

WEARINESS.

O little feet! that such long years
Must wander on through hopes and fears,
Must ache and bleed beneath your load;
I, nearer to the wayside inn
Where toil shall cease and rest begin,
Am weary, thinking of your road!

O little hands! that, weak or strong,
Have still to serve or rule so long,
Have still so long to give or ask;
I, who so much with book and pen
Have toiled among my fellow-men,
Am weary, thinking of your task!

O little hearts that throb and beat
With such impatient, feverish heat,
Such limitless and strong desires;
Mine that so long has glowed and burned
With passions into ashes turned,
Now covers and conceals its fires.

O little souls! as pure and white
And crystalline as rays of light
Direct from heaven, their source divine;
Reflected through the mist of years,
How red my setting sun appears!
How lurid looks this soul of mine!

The Age of Progress.

We publish to-day, the first scheme in the sale of Real and Personal Estate—a Company chartered by the last Legislature, with a capital of one hundred and thirty thousand dollars, and with power to increase that amount to five hundred thousand dollars. An examination of the charter satisfies us that the Company is pursuing a legitimate business; they are empowered to "dispose of Real and Personal Estate in any mode or form they may deem best," and "all laws, or clauses of laws, coming in conflict with said charter are hereby repealed." This is plain and unmistakable English, and we have no doubt the transactions of the Company will prove beneficial to the property holders of North Carolina. For example: Mr. A. owns a piece of real estate which he wishes to dispose of. He throws it upon the market, and fails to get a bid that would warrant him in making a deed. He then places it in the hands of the North Carolina Real and Personal Estate Agency, at a fair valuation, and the property is sold by chance—the owner gets his price—the Company a fair and reasonable compensation for selling—and some poor man, for he other does in possession of a homestead, which, under any other circumstances, he would not have owned.

In fact, we do not view the Company as a Lottery—it is what it purports to be, a simple Agency for the sale of property, for its true value, which, otherwise would be sacrificed.

We refer our readers to the advertisement—the splendid real estate offered, and the other rich prizes, amounting in all to THREE THOUSAND AND ONE—and the reader will perceive, by the simple rule of division, that there is one prize to every twenty-four tickets.

The General Agent of the Company has given us a call, and assures us that the success of the Company is no longer a problem. In thirty-five counties through which he has just traveled, he represents the people as being enthusiastic in favor of it—both as to investing, and the placing of property in the hands of the Company for sale. He represents teat already, before the first grand drawing has taken place, applications to sell, amounting to half a million dollars, are on file in the Secretary's office.

We learn from the Raleigh papers, that the explanatory drawing which took place in the city of Raleigh, on Saturday last, passed off to the decided satisfaction of a large audience assembled in Tucker Hall to witness it.—Wil. Post.

One three cent stamp must accompany every order. All tickets will have the seal of the Company and signature of the Secretary.

☞ We refer to any Merchant, Banker or other gentleman of standing in the city of Raleigh.
